Our Core Competency

At Signature, we learned early on that we excel at marrying clients' staffing needs with exceptionally talented consultants. Historically, many companies that achieve the level of success enjoyed by Signature have branched out beyond staffing into other service offerings.

We made a conscious decision to stick with what we do best. So while others may strive to be all things to all people, we have invested our resources into becoming the nation's finest staffing provider. We take pride in meeting our clients' and consultants' needs by putting the right people on the right assignments.
