

Our Staff

Local IT Professionals

One of the strengths of Signature's service is that our team of IT Professionals has been recruited from across the country and beyond. Regardless of whether there is a local Signature office in your area, several thousand Signature consultants are most certainly nearby.

In short, there is virtually no IT need that Signature cannot fill with an experienced consultant quickly and within budget.

Signature is always recruiting new people to join our team. Our consultants provide us with referrals to other likeminded professionals, allowing Signature to expand its reach and stay abreast of the latest technologies.

All Skill Sets Represented

Our consultants are as strong in diversity as they are in numbers. The Signature team is not only comprised of the best IT professionals available, but we have also built relationships with consultants representing the widest possible range of skill sets, including:

- Application Development and Programming
- Analysis and Design
- Project Management
- Architecture
- Database Development and Administration
- System/Software - Implementations, Upgrades and Support
- Network Security
- ERP Systems
- Quality Assurance and Testing
- Training

Signature's recruiters diligently keep up with the latest technological developments, adding new members to the team as the latest IT solutions enter the marketplace. We have consultants with experience in every possible industry, meaning they are familiar with the specifics of your business, and its needs, before they ever walk through your front door.

In short, there is virtually no IT need that Signature cannot fill with an experienced consultant quickly and within budget. We know that our name is on the line with every project, and our team strives to meet our own high expectations at every turn.

A Team Built on a Foundation of Loyalty

We provide our consultants with opportunities they simply will not get at other staffing companies. We work with the best clients, across every industry and in every possible capacity. They are exposed to leading-edge technologies, stimulating work environments and intriguing projects.

In addition to the professional development possibilities, Signature treats its consultants like the thought-leaders that they are. We give them the power to do their jobs, make decisions and innovate.

Our staff knows that a high level of accountability comes with the benefits of working for Signature. In the end, it's our clients who benefit, because Signature consultants know that they have to meet these high expectations. Experienced consultants recognize that Signature is a different kind of company, and they do whatever it takes, on behalf of the client, to prove their worth to the team.
