Signature Consultants announced as finalist for 2010 Best Place to Work Contest in Charlotte

Charlotte—Signature Consultants (www.sigconsult.com) has been notified by the Charlotte Business Journal that they have been selected as a finalist for the 2010 Best Place to Work in the large category. Signature ranked as the #7 (2008) and #6 (2009) Best Place to Work (Large Category) in Charlotte the past two years. This announcement marks the third consecutive year Signature has received this prestigious recognition.

The Charlotte Business Journal partners with Quantum Workplace to conduct anonymous online surveys which are then scored and ranked accordingly. Signature is proud to include its employees, contractors, and consultants in the survey process to fully measure their satisfaction and feedback on the company's performance, benefits, management, opportunity, and level of engagement.

“Signature Consultants is proud to participate in the Best Place to Work contest the past three years as it provides a unique opportunity to hear candid feedback from our entire Charlotte workforce. This contest provides our organization with great feedback, and allows us to celebrate our successes with our clients and consultants while continuing to identify avenues for continued improvement.” said Candace Whitaker, VP of Human Resources for Signature Consultants.

Signature Consultants will be in attendance for the awards luncheon held at the Charlotte Convention Center on November 4th at 12:30pm. At this event Signature will be informed of their 2010 ranking. Jay Cohen, President and CEO of Signature stated, “We started Signature 14 years ago with the #1 focus being on the relationships with our employees, consultants, and clients. Being voted, judged, and recognized by our own employees and consultants is confirmation that we have been, and remain committed to our best assets, our employees.”

Highlights of Signature Consultants' benefits include: profit-sharing and employee ownership program; charitable gift and matching program; continuing education and tuition reimbursement; paid time-off for public service; 401(k); medical, dental, vision; employee-referral program; quarterly and annual incentive trips; professional and leadership courses; family and corporate outings; employee-assistance program; travel discounts; paid mobile phones; and company-sponsored tailgates.
